CHAPTER 13

Once the clock hit midnight Fliss, Lisa, Trotter and Gary all gathered in the bathroom. 30 minutes later they heard creaking from the ancient dusty stairs. They all looked. It was Ellie-May. In her sky blue bunny PJ'S. She staggered towards the room.

"I can't believe it" whispered Gary.

"I'm sorry I didn't believe you Fliss" said Lisa quietly.

"What do you think is behind that door?" asked Trotter.

"Don't know, but we are going to find out," Fliss said.

They followed Ellie-May. Unspectedly the door creaked open and Ellie-Mays' feet dragged her in, before the door shut, they all entered.

The room was murky and there was no light. Lisa was so petrified; she reached out to hold Fliss' hand, but she ended up holding Trotters' hand instead. They both screamed in terror. Ellie-May was nowhere to be seen. Bones were all over the floor. Lisa screamed in horror.

"If you're terrified you can hold my hand" said Gary. As Lisa pulled her hand away,

"In your dreams Gary I wouldn't be seen dead dating you" Lisa said angrily. Trotter said to both of them

"Shut up both of you we are here to find Ellie-May".

Something oozed down from the ceiling and down Gary's back and he was dancing around like a monkey.

The door swung open (unspectedly) and a grotesque beast step inside with Ellie-May over his shoulder. She didn't move. She was low-pitched. The creature strapped her to a chair. She was frozen. As time went by this beast wondered what to do: should he eat her right her away or wait for the next night.

Trotter whispered," What are we going to do?"

Gary answered shivering," I'm really horrified."

Fliss' were locked on this creature and he looks familiar to her. It was the beast from her nightmare. It was all coming together now; the crow's nest is a place where room 13 is a portal to another world where the most deadly beasts live and that is the way they can get human flesh. When she turned around for just a split second. Ellies' head was bit straight off. (He finished eating her in 30 seconds.) All that was left of her was her skeleton. Blood was slowly oozing down the wall. The ground started to shake. A hole appeared in the grotty floor. He dived in.

Once it was morning Fliss, Lisa, Trotter and Gary all met up.

"We are going back to ROOM 13 tonight to take another look," Fliss said firmly.

Trotter replied," We need to find out more about that room."

Old Hepworth came up the stairs. They all raced back to their rooms.

Old Hepworth roared, "Get out of bed and get down stairs now."

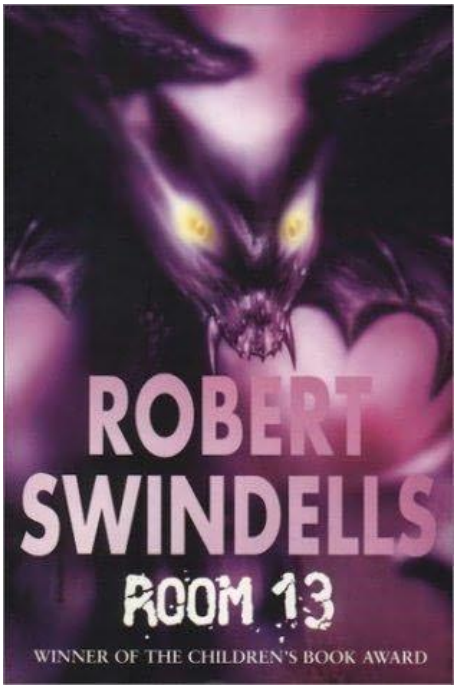

Lisa said worriedly", what are we going to do? They are going to find out that not coming down."

Today they were going on another boring walk around Whitbey. All day they couldn't stop thinking about ROOM 13. It was finely night and they pushed the door open (slowly) standing right in front of them was Ellie-Mays' skeleton. She dragged them... By Sophie Hall
