Computing- LO: To understand what Junk Mail is.

To begin with I want you to think about what you understand Junk mail to be. Where would you find it? What would you count as Junk Mail?

Junk Mail

Do you sometimes get letters or leaflets through your letter box that aren't really for anyone in your home?

Do you think they are sent especially to your home?

What do the people in your home do with them?

Why are they sent and who by?

What Is Spam?

We call the unwanted letters and leaflets posted to homes 'junk mail'.

Spam is the name we give to the email version of junk mail.

They are emails someone receives without asking for them.

What Is Spam?

They are sent to any email address that the sender has, and are never just for the person that receives it.

Sender	Subject	Date
<input type="checkbox"/> bill776556@interspam.ds	FREE Money!!! £££	03/01/2019
<input type="checkbox"/> The Free Stuff Co!	Reply now for FREE Stuff :D	04/02/2019
<input type="checkbox"/> Lottery Legends	You have won £5 million!	05/02/2019
<input type="checkbox"/> bananas2345666@spamnet.bot	Open now to read a secret!	06/02/2019

How would receiving this email make you feel? Why?

If you receive an email like this it could:

1. Contain a virus which would damage your computer.
2. Could take you to a dangerous website.
3. Could allow the sender of the email to take your information where they can send you more emails which is harmful.

Protect Your Inbox

It can be quite easy to spot spam...

- A spam email will often look like it is from a company. Sometimes, it will look like it is from a company you trust.
- The emails often come from a strange-looking or unknown email address.
- The subject might say that you have won something or that there is an amazing deal for you.

Protect Your Inbox

If you spot spam...

- Do not open the email.
- Find out how to 'mark as junk' so that your email provider knows the email is junk mail. This will move it out of your inbox.
- If you think the email might be dangerous, ask a trusted adult to help you report it.

Protect Your Inbox

If you open an email and then realise it's spam...

Make sure you do not reply to it or forward it.

Don't click any links or attachments in it - these could be really harmful!

You can still move the email to your junk folder or report it after you've opened it.

Tell a trusted adult that you opened it by accident, just so they can check that nothing harmful has happened.
