

Tuesday 17th November 2020

LO: To identify which materials have certain properties.

Today we made shelters for the lonely beast out of a range of materials. We planned what we wanted our shelter to look like and predicted whether it would be good or not based on its properties. We then tested the shelter using a hairdryer to test for strength and water to test whether they were waterproof.

Tuesday 17th November 2020

LO: To identify which materials have certain properties.

Today we made shelters for the lonely beast out of a range of materials. We planned what we wanted our shelter to look like and predicted whether it would be good or not based on its properties. We then tested the shelter using a hairdryer to test for strength and water to test whether they were waterproof.

